Sample Late Night Monologue Jokes

There has been some speculation about the possibility of a Coronavirus baby boom. Wives around America have refuted this claim saying that quarantining with their husbands has made it less likely they will ever want to have more children with them.

California Governor Gavin Newsom said in a Facebook Live press conference that “there are no winners in Coronavirus.” Doritos and sweatpants can be heard snickering in the background.

South African newlyweds were honeymooning in the Maldives when the coronavirus pandemic caused airport shutdowns, forcing them to stay at their resort. They were consoled by other married couples who confirmed that being stuck with your partner is what marriage is all about.

Despite the coronavirus pandemic, some New Yorkers are still piling onto crowded subways daily to get to work. One commuter expressed his concern over the undesirable conditions before nodding off with his open mouth pressed against the shoulder of the guy next to him.

The sales of underground bunkers are booming as the panic of coronavirus spreads, much to the disappointment of creeps everywhere who were like, “Aw man, that’s our thing!”

Dominatrix, Aviva Diamond, is experiencing financial crisis due to COVID-19 because BDSM “online sessions are cheaper” but also because “it’s really hard to humiliate someone already wearing undersized pajamas and covered with Oreos.”

Cities like NY are struggling to meet the demands of overcrowded mortuaries. Some locals have reached out to help, like native Brooklynite, Mick “The Meatball” Lombardi who said “I got a cousin that can help us make these bodies disappear.”

In a recent DNA study, researchers identified five locations in the genome significantly associated with homosexuality. Gay rights advocates are worried this could lead to discriminatory practices, while straight women are hoping scientists will isolate the gene that could help their boyfriends dress better.

The luxury sex doll business is booming with prices starting at fifteen hundred dollars which is estimated to be less than the cost of fifteen dates. That number, of course, does not matter, as most of their customers haven't actually been on any dates.

45,000 tickets were available to Kanye West's Sunday Service at Joel Osteen's megachurch which scalpers sold for $500 a piece, marking the first time the church has been associated with the exchange of this much money without requiring an NDA.

New Apple Card users have reported gender discrimination in the algorithm determining credit limits. One man received 10 times the limit of his wife who was told, by the algorithm, that she should smile more.

In Sweden, a wanted man was found asleep inside an IKEA store's bed department. Initially, he was able to evade police officers, who took 3 hours to find the bed department.

Experts believe that devastating bushfires in Australia have left koalas nearly extinct - the worst catastrophe the country has experienced since Iggy Azalea released her first album.

Fans attending Pete Davidson's Sydney standup show were asked to sign a lengthy, over-the-top non-disclosure agreement with several restrictions, including language requiring that "Individuals should not offer any opinions or critiques." As a result, the event was poorly attended by Jewish mothers.

Scientists claim the notion of "dog years" is inaccurate. According to the study, by the time they get to three, dogs are actually equivalent to a 50-year-old human, which explains why the preferred online service provider of dogs is AOL.
